

NOT TRAIN ROBBERS, BUT TWO CAPTURED ARE OLD OFFENDERS

Although the police were forced today to abandon hope of connecting with the M. K. T. train robbery at Matson, Mo., last Thursday, two men arrested yesterday by Detectives Daly and Rose, who saw them discussing newspaper clippings of the robbery at Eightieth street and Columbus avenue, the capture of one was said today to be important. He is Joseph McDonald, also known as "Milkie," and he is wanted to answer for the robbery of Charles G. Bojin of No. 1172 Wyoming avenue, Exeter Borough, Pa., in Union Hill, N. J., on July 8 of last year.

His companion, Benjamin Morton, who is known, the police say, as "Deane Morris," and who has been arrested many times in the last forty years of his seventy-one although never convicted, was thought to be the man who played the "come-in" in the attempt to swindle William Jencke, a saloon keeper of One Hundred and Ninety-fifth street and Broadway by the wire tapping game on June 11. Jencke failed to identify him to-day, however, and he was taken to the West Side Court, where his discharge was recommended.

Bojin and his brother-in-law, Michael Smith, are on their way from Exeter Borough to appear against McDonald. They say he advertised some whiskey bonds for sale, showed them to Smith and Bojin in a Union Hill saloon and, when Smith advised against their purchase, held him and Bojin up with a revolver, stole $1,000 and got away in an automobile. The victims picked his picture out of the Rogues' Gallery, and the police have been looking for McDonald ever since.
